

A less ad hoc approach: the "Extended" VCA treatment

- We choose the angle to be halfway between the angles of the two Fe spins, θ_i and θ_j

- Now, we have a somewhat large basis, but this should be quite feasible for us to tackle.

