Problem 1: A ball is thrown off of a cliff with an initial velocity that is horizontal. There is no air resistance and it follows the path shown (typical projectile motion).

Part (a) What direction is the acceleration of the ball?

Acceleration is a constant vector pointing downwards towards the ground for projectile motion.